Building Space For Business Since 1981 • Fall 2010

JHC put up a new 15,000-square-foot building for Eola Hills Winery in time for the fall harvest, to help them keep up with increasing demand for their products.

The Basics of Life? Maybe It's Time!

They say that during tough economic times, people scale back to the basics. You wouldn't expect many economic indicators to be evident by analyzing a contractor's customer list, but a glance at some of our recent jobs certainly reveals a pattern that's difficult to ignore. Take a look and you decide: Dutch Bros. Coffee, Voodoo Donuts, La Superior Restaurant, Eola Hills Winery and America's Mattress. Coffee, donuts, food, wine and sleep! If that's not reflective of the basics, well, at least most of them, I don't know what is!

Give us a call and we will design and build whatever you need, so that you can provide the basics for your customers!

Dutch Bros. Coffee, Cornelius, Oregon. The 157th Dutch Bros., and the third store for franchisee Jason Albert, opened in July with free coffee drinks all day, music and a day-long party.
